

FOZA Volunteer – Nikita Morton
Online Communication Amplifier

Quote: “I look forward to learning more about FOZA, and spreading the word about PPD.”

- Nikita Morton

Nikita Morton is a graduate student at Indiana University, pursuing a Masters in Social Work. She earned her Bachelor's degree in Psychology and Marketing from California State University, Long Beach.

With a genuine passion for perinatal mental health awareness and policy advocacy, Nikita aspires to specialize in the perinatal space, offering invaluable support to mothers and their families during the transformative period of pregnancy and childbirth. Her personal experiences as a mother to a precious baby girl serve as a wellspring of inspiration, motivating her to strive for enhanced perinatal care and support systems.

Nikita also brings skills from her past role as a Project Manager at a creative design agency, emphasizing her organization, task management, and communication abilities. As she continues her academic and professional journey, Nikita is poised to make a meaningful impact in the field of social work, driven by compassion and advocacy.
