

Quote: “As a mother, I understand that pregnancy and the time immediately following birth is when women and families need support the most. I want to be a part of that circle of support.”

Biography

Chrisalyn M. Santos is a writer and communications specialist with experience in the private and public sectors.

Mrs. Santos is a U.S. Veteran, starting her career in the U.S. Air Force where she served as a Public Affairs Specialist. While in the Air Force, she learned the importance of forging strong connections with the communities one serves.

Those lessons supported her efforts as she led the publication of the Capital Flyer, the newspaper of Joint Base Andrews in Maryland (at the time the base was called Andrews Air Force Base). Mrs. Santos also supported Media Relations on the base by escorting visiting members of the media.

Following the military, Mrs. Santos pursued her education while working as a staff writer at the National Association of Federal Credit Unions in Arlington. At NAFCU, she learned more about framing communications while advocating on behalf of our nation’s credit unions.

Mrs. Santos currently serves as a public affairs specialist at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. She specializes in internal communications, delivering crucial information to the OCC's employees. Her work supports the employees who ensure a safe and sound financial system with fair access for all Americans.

Mrs. Santos resides in Maryland with her husband and daughter.
